Are you a corporate marketing, advertising, branding, or promotions expert? Could you see your company aligned with a celebrity endorser admired by millions of loyal fans across the US and abroad? Want your message and your brand on national TV 24 weekends per year, on Fox and Fox Sports 1? Want a PR effort that gets you in magazines, newspapers, and websites consistently? Looking for B2B hospitality opportunities at major sports events, where your VIP guests are "behind the ropes" and as up-close as they can be? Do you value partnership, loyalty, and tireless promotion? And also, just wondering, what if your billboard was an 11,000 hp Nitro Funny Car that went from zero to 320 mph in less than four seconds, while a million viewers watched the close-up on TV? If any of the answers are "Yes" this is your guy... 2-Time NHRA Mello Yello World Champion Del Worsham is looking for the right company to promote with an integrated marketing partnership. Those with serious interest can message me for more background and information, or contact Brent LaBrie at brent@kramerservicesgroup.com
